

Notes for the teachers/ Aantekeningen voor docenten

This are 4 lessons about inclusiveness in sports. Each lesson is a powerpoint presentation with plenty of notes for the presenter under each side. Each powerpoint comes with activities, discussion questions, and pictures and hopefully will last about 45-50 minutes. You can also make a combination of lessons. Target: discussion in English about this subject.

These lessons are made by American student Anna Dunn as part of her SIT Study Abroad exchange program in Amsterdam.

Hier treft u een viertal lessen aan in de vorm van een powerpoint presentatie. Iedere powerpoint bevat plaatjes en vragen. Extra informatie treft u onder de slides aan. Elke les kan 45 – 50 minuten in beslag nemen. Ook kunnen lessen gecombineerd worden. Doel: een discussie in het Engels over dit onderwerp.

Deze lessen zijn gemaakt door de Amerikaanse student Anna Dunn als onderdeel van haar SIT Study Abroad uitwisselingsprogramma in Amsterdam.

Lesson 1: LGBT Athletes/ LHBT sporters

Activities:

Questions written in notes on each slide

Final discussion questions

Potential Homework:

Look up another famous LGBT athlete. Bring to class a short presentation with their achievements, how they identify, and what they have faced because of it.

Sources:

“Billie Jean King Fast Facts.” CNN, Cable News Network, 17 Nov. 2017, edition.cnn.com/2014/02/24/sport/tennis/billie-jean-king-fast-facts/index.html.

“Bisexual Boxer Nicola Adams Opens up about Coming out and Facing up to Prejudice in Sport.” PinkNews, 7 Nov. 2016, www.pinknews.co.uk/2016/11/07/bisexual-boxer-nicola-adams-opens-up-about-coming-out-and-facing-up-to-prejudice-in-sport/.

Buzinski, Jim. “Putin Hugs Gold Medal Bisexual Speedskater.” Outsports, Outsports, 13 Feb. 2014, www.outsports.com/2014/2/12/5407530/vladimir-putin-hugs-gold-medal-bisexual-speedskater.

“Is Johnny Weir Responsible for Talking about Gay Issues in Sochi?” Salon, 11 Feb. 2014, www.salon.com/2014/02/11/is_johnny_weir_responsible_for_talking_about_gay_issues_in_sochi/.

“‘It Was Horrible’: Billie Jean King Recalls Being Outed in 1981.” NBCNews.com, NBCUniversal News Group, www.nbcnews.com/feature/nbc-out/it-was-horrible-billie-jean-king-recalls-being-publicly-outed-n804451.

“Johnny Weir.” Biography.com, A&E Networks Television, 8 Oct. 2015, www.biography.com/people/johnny-weir-21356099.

Liberatore, Wendy. “First Openly Gay NFL Player Shares Story.” Times Union, www.timesunion.com/sports/article/First-openly-gay-NFL-player-shares-story-10916280.php.

Lesson 2: Masculinity, Homophobia and Sports/Mannelijkheid, Homofobie en Sport

Activities:

Questions with notes on each side

Word association game (could work best with a white board or spaces for different people to write) could be done in groups or just having individual members of the class shout out.

Potential Homework: Write a short 1-2 page report on a way that a sports team player or organization has worked to combat homophobia. Was it effective?

Sources:

Ap. “CAS Rules FIFA Wrong to Fine Mexico for Fans' Gay Slur Chant.” FOX Sports, 16 Nov. 2017, www.foxsports.com/soccer/story/cas-rules-fifa-wrong-to-fine-mexico-for-fans-gay-slur-chant-111617.

Kimmel, M. S. (1997). Masculinity as Homophobia: Fear, Shame, and Silence in the Construction of Gender Identity. Theorizing Masculinities, 119-141. doi:10.4135/9781452243627.n7

Polasek, K. M., & Roper, E. A. (2011). Negotiating the gay male stereotype in ballet and modern dance. Research in Dance Education, 12(2), 173-193. doi:10.1080/14647893.2011.603047

Lesson 3: Women and Objectification in Sports/ Vrouwelijke sporters in de media

Activities:

Questions in Slides

Fix that article!: Put kids in two or three groups and ask them to edit this short article about the Dutch women’s field hockey team, to make it about their talents, and less about their looks. Allow them access to computers so they can research facts about the team itself.

<http://bleacherreport.com/articles/1278240-dutch-olympic-field-hockey-netherlands-women-steal-the-show-with-good-looks>

Sources:

Bryant, J. (2016, November 02). [PHOTOS] The Hottest Women of the Dutch Olympic Field Hockey Team. Retrieved from <https://coed.com/2012/07/30/the-hottest-women-of-the-netherlands-olympic-field-hockey-team-photos/>

Buzinski, J. (2012, July 31). Lesbian Love -- The Male Obsession With The Dutch Women's Field Hockey Team. Retrieved from <https://www.sbnation.com/london-olympics-2012/2012/7/31/3207133/lesbian-love-the-male-obsession-with-the-dutch-womens-field-hockey>

Flemming, M. (2017, May 31). Tennis legend: The sport is 'full of lesbians'. Retrieved from <https://nypost.com/2017/05/31/tennis-legend-the-sport-is-full-of-lesbians/>

Rogers, Katie. "Sure, These Women Are Winning Olympic Medals, but Are They Single?" The New York Times, The New York Times, 18 Aug. 2016, www.nytimes.com/2016/08/19/sports/olympics/sexism-olympics-women.html.
"When It Comes to Women in Sports, TV News Tunes Out." USC News, news.usc.edu/82382/when-it-comes-to-women-in-sports-tv-news-tunes-out/.

Lesson 4: Concluding Lessons/Conclusies

Activities: questions: Solutions? Dutch situation?